Musical Program, Films Enjoyed By Home And School Association

LAC LA BICHE — A musical program, as well as three interesting health films, was enjoyed by those in attendance at the Home and School meeting held in the Dr. Swift School May 26. H. Senetza chaired the meeting in the absence of E. Shanks, president.

Miss Torresen's room again won the attendance banner. Mrs. Booker presented a resolution to establish a Home and School Scholarship for a deserving high school student. This was carried.

Following the business session, Mrs. J. Breaux, entertainment convenor, introduced the guest artists for the evening. Conrad Eisenhut, an accomplished violinist from Edmonton, accompanied by Miss Erika End, local piano teacher, delightfully rendered several numbers. There numbers were followed by "Variations by Mozart" played by Miss End on the piano.

Miss Tiffin, public health nurse, then showed three films on the follow-up work in connection with TB clinics, hospital care versus home care in the treatment of TB. These films were most timely and interesting.

Mrs. Bob Joncas accompanied herself on the piano as she delightfully sang two numbers, "Lucky Old Sun" and "Enjoy Yourself."

Miss End played a final number revealing much talent. Lunch was served to conclude the evening.

Vote Favors Town-Owned Gas System

The proprietary electors of the town of Lac la Biche turned out in good numbers last Friday to give the green light to the town council to proceed with plans for the town to own its own gas distribution system.

Out of a possible 276 voters on the list, there were only 34 who registered disapproval to the town's intention to own the system. The actual count of ballots showed: Yes votes, 104; No votes, 34; Spoiled ballots, 3.

The number of votes cast is considered unusually heavy for a plebiscite and councillors are pleased to know that they have the backing of the townspeople in what they believe to be a very important project.

E. J. WOYNAROWICH

Lions Elects Woynarowich

LAC LA BICHE — E. J. Woynarowich was elected president of the Lions Club at the recent annual meeting of the club held at the York Hotel.

The activities of the club for the president, E. J. Woynarowich; first vice-president, William Hamilton; second vice-president, Dr. D. Bouvier; third vice-president, Nick Chodan; secretary-treasurer, Rev. S. Munro; tail-twister and lion tamer, E. G. Dobson; directors, W. J. Chester, H. Linnell, Jake Klein and Roy Raines.

The activities of the club for the past year were reviewed by the president, E. G. Dobson, with the auditors' report showing the club to be in good financial standing.

Marshall Hamar, chairman, will be in charge of preparations for the Lions' part in the Sports Day at Lac la Biche, July 1.

Council Studies Water Main Cost

LAC LA BICHE — Councillors Vincent, McMillan, Tkachuk, James Hamar and Mayor Hamar and Secretary Creighton were present for the May 26 meeting of town council.

A report of the town's engineers, showing the cost of a 3000-foot extension to water mains in order to serve a portion of the area in the south side of the town was examined. The report was placed in the hands of a group of citizens in the area and will await their consideration.

A resolution was passed calling for the cancellation of the road angling through Block 33 in the west end of town. The lands affected will revert back to lots as it was in the original plan before the road was surveyed.

A letter was read from the Lac la Biche Chamber of Commerce complimenting the town council on the way it had handled the natural gas question thus far.

Some discussion took place regarding permission to owners of trailer homes to locate permanently on lots in residential sections. Information will be sought from municipal authorities so as to be better prepared to deal with the trailer home question.

Sea Cadet Parade, Inspection Held

LAC LA BICHE — The annual Sea Cadet parade and inspection took place Tuesday, May 26, with Commander Lyle Hoar, R.C.N.R., of Edmonton, as Inspecting Officer, accompanied by Sea Cadet Area Officer, Lt.-Commander E. A. Prescott, R.C.N. Local Cadet Officers were: Lt. R. Rizzoli, Sub. Lt. Ronald Lloyd and Sub. Lt. Leopold Langevin.

Owing to the fact that Father McGrane has been in Europe for the past six months, the Sea Cadet vessel, Exeter, was not ready for use, but a boat loaned by the fisheries department was used for navigation and sea training manoeuvres. Fred Harman was in charge of the crew.

A special feature of the parade was the newly-organized town band which made its first public appearance and contributed toward making the inspection one of the best yet held in Lac la Biche. The band, which is under the direction

Plans To Clear Land With Cats

PLAMONDON — Recently a large diesel truck arrived in Plamondon with the first of two D8 cats that L. Steed of Charron has purchased for the purpose of clearing land in the district, near Orville Gauthier's.

He will be operating and be in charge of all repair work. By using the large cats they hope to be able to cut the cost of clearing land.

Some Local News Missing This Week

Due to the provincial election campaign printers at the Sun office in Edmonton are very busy. Consequently they have not been able to set all the news they would have liked to put in the paper this week.

As soon as the bulk of election printing has been done, however, the news missed this week will be set and published in the paper.

Local editors and reporters are asked to continue sending their news on schedule.

T. W. PUE,
Editor & Publisher.

Election activity heightens this week with Alberta's political party leaders off on a campaign tour of the province. Premier E. C. Manning and Liberal leader W. Grant MacEwan last week announced they would make the rounds to speak on behalf of their candidates. PC's W. Cam Kirby also has a busy schedule planned. CCF leader Floyd Johnson will campaign in the Peace River Country, especially his own constituency, Dunvegan.

Over 208 candidates have been named: 64 for SC, 60 for PC, 46 for Liberals, 32 for CCF and six independents.

The premier will be in the Peace River country June 12 and 13 to speak on behalf of Sacred candidates running in the June 18 provincial election. His itinerary was announced by Ira McLaughlin, SC candidate for the Grande Prairie riding.

The premier will speak at Fairview Friday afternoon, June 12, and at Grande Prairie the same night. On June 13, he will attend a luncheon at Spirit River before returning to Grande Prairie to board a plane for Wainwright, in eastern Alberta, where he will continue his campaign tour.

Last weekend Mr. Manning released the Social Credit party's manifesto which states that sound, progressive policies of the SC government have given Alberta a position of leadership unequalled in Canada.

The manifesto adds the government has helped to build a prosperous and debt-free province and now has embarked on a five-year program geared to the needs and opportunities of today and tomorrow.

Three-hundred thousand copies of the manifesto were printed. Each constituency has a different copy with a biography of the Social Credit candidate, a map of the riding and the total municipal assistance received by the constituency.

Mr. MacEwan's tour started in Peace River Monday and by Saturday was due in Vegreville.

On June 9 he will visit Pincher Creek, Vulcan and Fort Macleod in the south, swing north again the next day for meetings in Stony Plain and Edson, and visit Sedgewick and Provost June 11. He will be in Redwater and Boyle June 12, and in Camrose and Didsbury June 13. From June 14 to 17, Mr. MacEwan will be in Calgary where he is seeking re-election to the Legislature.

CCF provincial head Floyd Johnson left Thursday for Grande Prairie to make a tape recording for release on radio Friday. He was scheduled to hold a joint meeting at Fairview, Friday.

Mr. Johnson plans visits next week in the Spirit River constituency and then will stump his own riding of Dunvegan up until election time.

Hazen Argue, MP, house leader at Ottawa for the CCF, will address six meetings in the Edmonton area next week.

On June 13 Mr. Argue will speak at a campaign meeting in the Calder community hall. He will speak in Vegreville at 2 p.m., June 14 and at night in St. Albert riding.

Mr. Argue will address a public meeting in the Masonic Temple here at 8 p.m., June 15. On June 16 he will address a campaign rally in the Red Deer area while on June 17 he will speak at Mayer-

WESTERN TIRE'S

Favor 60-Acre Clover Bar Site For $8 Million Goodyear Plant

By KEN LARSON

A 60-acre site on the Clover Bar area of the Municipal District of Strathcona is being considered for an $8,000,000 western tire plant by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. of Canada Ltd.

The announcement follows close on the heels of one announcing intention to build a $10,000,000 steel pipe mill also in the MD of Strathcona by Page-Heisey Tubes, Limited, and The Steel Company of Canada, Limited.

Although other centres in the province are being considered, a team of company officials has been in Edmonton exploring the merits of possible sites. It is believed a 60-acre site in the Clover Bar district is favored.

Company president L. E. Spencer of Toronto said that the new plant would cost between $6,000,000 and $8,000,000, and is needed because the firm's tire factory in Toronto is running at capacity.

"The market in western Canada," Mr. Spencer said, "has reached a point where a tire manufacturing plant is required by Goodyear to meet its business demands."

He said it would take 18 months to build, but work could start almost immediately when the decision to locate has been made.

EMPLOY 300

The main building will have a length of 750 feet and a width of 150 to 200 feet. Ultimately, a staff of 300 persons would be employed.

Following its policy of enlarging facilities to keep pace with business growth, the company has started work on a new $500,000 warehouse and office quarters in Saskatoon. Within the last three years, the company has doubled its facilities at every branch in western Canada, said Mr. Spencer.

Mr. Harper said talks with the sales organization showed a substantial increase in business at the company's branches this year.

THRIVE, NOT JUST SURVIVE

"Business is up substantially in the prairie provinces," he said. "In 1959, we shall thrive, not just survive."

Speaking of the company's research and development department, the officials said improvements are being made through utilizing nylon construction. Tests are being made of the use of screen wire material, to see whether this would be economical for heavy rubber tires under Canadian conditions.

Already the company has prepared requirements for the compact or small-type car which some of the leading manufacturers plan to put on the Canadian market. Mould for these smaller tires already have been obtained for such production demands.

New Location For Welfare Office

Deputy Welfare Minister Ray Hagen says his department is taking over the downtown North-western Utilities Building to house a regional welfare office for Edmonton. The office will include up to 35 university-trained workers to look after transient married persons.

The new location is designed to bring more specialized welfare agencies closer to the people. The building will also include the rehabilitation branch, the child placement and adoption sections, and counselors for unmarried mothers.

Scientist from the Research Council of Alberta have completed a project designed to foster an active interest among high school students in scientific research.

Charge Soap Firm Under "Lotteries"

The Alberta attorney-general's department said that a charge has been laid against Proctor and Gamble Company of Canada Limited, a national soap company, under the lotteries section of the Criminal Code.

The charge could set a precedent which other provinces might follow, said provincial solicitor S. A. Friedman. Laid by city police, the charge will be heard June 26 in Edmonton city police court.

It involves a national lottery scheme in which Proctor and Gamble is alleged to have promised that a percentage of the firm's products would contain a slip which purchasers could fill out with an opinion and win $5. It states that the company caused publication of the scheme between March 7 and April 25, 1959.

Officials of the Edmonton office of Proctor and Gamble declined comment.

YOUR LIFE'S WORK — POWERFUL MEDICINE

By Dr. Walter C. Alvarez

Emeritus Member, Division of Medicine, Mayo Clinic
And Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

Part 18

the concluding article in the series "How To Get Along With People"

According to that great physician, Sir William Osler, "The Masterword which is the 'Open Sesame' to every portal . . . the true philosopher's stone . . . is work. The stupid man it will make bright, the bright man brilliant, and the brilliant student steady. With the magic word in your heart all things are possible, and without it all study is vanity and vexation . . . not only has it been the touchstone of progress, but it is the measure of success in every day of life."

Psychologists tell us that one of the most profound needs we men and women have is for work—work great enough and significant enough to call out most of our powers, and to absorb our interests and energies.

Dr. Walter C.
Alvarez

Often when a poorly-adjusted man asks me how he can stay sane I suggest that he work each day. That will steady him and will bring contentment by day and good sleep by night.

There is no doubt that many men and women are happiest when they are creating something, and particularly some beautiful thing. It is sad that, today, most of our constructive work is done in factories, where each man does one small part of the job. Because of this, he never has the joy of being able to point to something that he has produced.

ACCEPT MEDIOCRITY

As some wise men have said, most of us learn to accept philosophically that amount of mediocrity which is our share in life. Since we cannot all be geniuses, many of us must be comforted by the thought of how much good is being done in this world by the hard work of thousands of people like us whose mental gifts are only average.

Often, when I see a man toiling at some simple task, such as that of carrying trays in a restaurant or picking up bits of paper from the grass in the park, or digging a ditch, I think of what a useful task he is performing. Knowing the tremendous amount of uninteresting labor that must be done in this world, I am grateful to the many faithful men and women who can and will do these jobs.

As the Bible says, there are many persons who were born to be "hewers of wood and drawers of water." If all of us had been born to be theoretical physicists, how could our cities have been built? Who would have made our houses and tilled our fields? Who would have brought up for us coal and metals from the dangerous depths of the earth; who would have dug tunnels under the great rivers; who, with the thermometer below zero, would have put together steel girders near the top of a skyscraper; and who would have slaughtered and cut up the animals we use for food?

CHOOSE JOB YOU LIKE

It would be well if more men and women would refuse to settle down for life in a job they did not choose and now do not enjoy.

One of my doctor friends, when a poverty-stricken student, got his board and lodging by working in the x-ray department of his college. When he graduated, the easiest thing for him to do was to stay on in the department. In a few years he was head of it, but he hated x-ray work and fretted against a life that did not suit him. Perhaps, as a result, he developed a bad stomach ulcer.

He kept toying with the idea of starting life anew as an orthopedist, and on his return from the first World War, with savings in the bank, he could easily have made the break, but he never did. As a result, for all his days, his life ran him, when he should have been running his life.

Many ask, "What drives a man to work as hard as many successful men do? Is it desire for money, power, prestige, fame, or what?"

MUCH TO LEARN

My impression is that most able men work so hard because they love to get things done, and they see so much work waiting to be tackled. So many demands are being made on them; and there is so much they want to learn.

If one will read the lives of great inventors one will see they were driven to work day and night by their desire to perfect their inventions. Most of them were driven by an insatiable curiosity.

In my own case, I have been driven mainly by my desire for answers to the questions that are constantly arising in my mind about medicine and illness and general science. And whenever I have worked out the answer to one of my medical questions, I have been driven by a desire quickly to pass on my bit of new information to my fellow physicians all over the world. I have to write a paper or book and get it published.

Do many men work for fame? I much doubt it. I know I never worked for fame. Fame has its pleasant aspects, but it does not warm the heart. I can bring innumerable demands, many annoyances and even much heartbreak and unhappiness.

BITTER JEALOUSY

I have known able physicians who, when they became famous because of a discovery, were greatly distressed by the bitter jealousy shown by men who had been their associates.

Another objection to fame as a goal is that when it comes it does not last long. A generation soon springs up made of persons who have hardly heard the famous one's name. Sir William Osler was wise in saying, "Throw away all ambition beyond that of doing the day's work well."

Does the very successful man work for money? No; if money comes he may enjoy it, but he never worked for money. Besides, after one has enough money for one's daily needs, more money tends to become just sheets of paper laid away in a safe deposit box. There it gives no one pleasure beyond, perhaps, a feeling of security for the future.

What do hard-working men get that is good? Mainly the satisfaction of having done many things well. In my own case, the greatest pleasure my work in science has brought me has come through my many friendships with able and distinguished and fine men. These friendships have greatly enriched my life.

New Alberta Farm Purchase Credit Act Promised By Progressive-Conservatives Short Changed, Says MacEwan

The "discredited" Farm Purchase Credit Act will be displaced with a new farm credit act when the Progressive Conservative government is formed after the voting on June 18, says Mr. Kirby, Progressive Conservative leader stated in his opening address of the campaign last week.

Mr. Kirby said that, under the proposed legislation, a maximum of $5,000 could be loaned to qualified farmers, for a period of 30 years. For young, starting farmers the interest rate will be 4 per cent and for established farmers it will be not more than one per cent above the rate of interest the Government has to pay when it borrows.

The Progressive Conservative leader also pledged a new policy of rural electrification.

"Many of our farmers, especially the Peace River and the north generally, are denied the benefit of electric power through excessive rates. This we will correct," said Mr. Kirby.

The Progressive Conservative leader promised to "establish a uniform policy under which all citizens, rural and urban, will receive equitable treatment."

Mr. Kirby promised new policies of improvements in irrigation, industrialization, agricultural education, marketing research, livestock policies, crop insurance, workman's compensation for farm workers and said "we will name bona-fide farmers to serve on all commissions, boards and investigative bodies named to deal with matters directly affecting the farming industry."

"We will have plenty of active, bona-fide farmers in our own caucus—men who know farmers and know the farming industry and will press constantly for the kind of square deal our Alberta farmers have not had in the past," said Mr. Kirby.

Mr. Kirby charged that the present Government has an arrogant regard of the rights of the farmers.

"Comments by the Minister of Agriculture have implied a contempt for the people who work the land in Alberta," said Mr.

Kirby. "To the irrigation farmers he said "Maybe we should buy the land in the west block of the Bow River Development at a fair price, and sell it to United States interests to come in and develop". That is his irrigation policy. "Maybe we should plough in the ditches and turn it back to dry land", said the minister. This is their farm policy—to simply scorn the real problems on our farmers," charged Mr. Kirby.

"The Progressive Conservative Party condemns this attitude of indifference and contempt and when we are elected on June 18th we will displace it with firm and crisp farm policies and an understanding of the legitimate needs and claims of our farmers," said Mr. Kirby.

FAIRVIEW — Grant MacEwan, Alberta Liberal leader, said that Northern Alberta has not received a fair share of highway construction, park development, forestry protection services or public works developments since the Liberal party was in power in Alberta.

The Liberal chief, making campaign speeches in the Peace River country for the June 18 provincial election, reminded an audience here that a provincial Liberal government built the first railway into Northern Alberta.

He pledged that a Liberal government would meet the needs of the north with access highways, which would mean lower farm delivery costs and more use of the north as a vacation area.

thorpe in Lac Ste. Anne constituency.

This week Cam Kirby's schedule called for a visit on behalf of Tory candidates to Camrose, St. Paul, Grimshaw, Spirit River and Grande Prairie.

He was scheduled to be at the Macdonald Hotel Friday night for a reception for 600 party workers.

Saturday he is due in Red Deer to speak at a Chamber of Commerce meeting.

His itinerary for next week is as follows: June 8, Bonnyville in the morning, Redwater in the afternoon and Vegreville in the evening; June 9, Waterways by air, then to Lac la Biche for the afternoon, and Athabasca in the evening; June 10, St. Albert; June 11, Ponoka, Lacombe, and then Stettler in the evening; June 12, Okotoks, and June 13, Pincher Creek.

Progressive Conservative leader W. J. C. Kirby took to the air last week as Tory campaigning continued. In a recorded province-wide broadcast he said the Socred five-year plan was inspired to strengthen the loosening grip of the Socred party and because a fear of the growing Tory movement in Alberta.

Mr. Kirby stated that the SC plan is a move by a tired and unimaginative government to distract the public from the progressive programs of the Conservative party.

"Action on this so-called plan is not an issue of this election," Mr. Kirby added. "Over a period of years the Progressive Conservative Party has advocated most of the projects of this five-year plan. We are pleased to see them going forward now."

The five-year plan "consists of totalling the expenditures that any government would have to make for five years and calling them a plan. It is a trick that won't fool any of us."

Outlining the Progressive Conservative program, Mr. Kirby said through increased revenue from a more equitable sharing of provincial-municipal costs, municipal debts will be cut.

More Careful In Picking Car Than Wife

People are more rational in selecting an automobile than they are a marriage partner, says Dr. R. L. James, associate professor of sociology at the University of Alberta.

He said persons in modern society should be more realistic in selecting a mate. They actually give very little attention to the task, Dr. James says, and do not consider the fact that they have to live with each other for many years.

Dr. James discussed the importance of the family and its changing role in modern society and cited mass communication and changing technology as two of the main factors in the socio-cultural changes of the family structure in recent years.

Mass communication such as radio, television, and newspapers, he said, have played a vital role in influencing the family in modern society. A few years ago, he said, the mother or father was the most influential factor in home life, but they have, to a great degree, been counteracted by mass communication in formulating thoughts of the children.

This influence by mass communication, Dr. James said, was more pronounced in urban centres, but is also spreading to rural areas.

"It is still true, however, that the influence is controlled by the parents in the more isolated areas"

The provincial attorney-general's department has hired Bonnyville lawyer Yarosaw Roslak as a solicitor. Mr. Roslak replaces G. S. D. Wright who left the government to enter private practice.

Support the Positive Farm Policies of the Progressive Conservative Party

During the period from 1951 to 1956 the net income of the average Alberta farm family has dropped steadily from $3,602.00 to $3,037.00 per annum. Meanwhile annual income of the average Canadian family has increased by $750 per year.

The late Liberal administration insisted there was nothing they could do for our farmers. As a result farmers missed out in some part, on the post-war boom.

The Social Credit Government has done nothing for Alberta farmers. For positive policies and a realistic and helpful farm program, it is time for change to a Progressive Conservative Government in Alberta.

Progressive Conservatives in Alberta recognize that many farmers are caught in a cost-price squeeze. They recognize that a provincial government can do relatively little in an effort to raise sales prices. But there are positive policies that would have the effect of lowering farm costs.

A Progressive Conservative government in Alberta will implement positive policies to RAISE NET FARM INCOME through reducing farm costs. This the Social Credit government has conspicuously failed to do over the past twenty-four years.

Faye Proctor and Robert Lowen Exchange Vows In Lac la Biche

Miss Faye Proctor and Mr. Robert Lowen exchanged marriage vows at the United Church, Lac la Biche, May 27. The bride is the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Proctor of Lac la Biche and the groom is the eldest son of Mrs. Jack Black of Bowden. Rev. S. Munro officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, gowned in a floor-length model of white net over satin. Her bodice featured a Peter Pan collar and lily-point sleeves. Her chapel veil was held in place by a crown of net and sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses.

Miss Vivian Lemay and Miss Sharon Kibbe, cousin of the bride, both of Edmonton, were the bride's attendants. Their gowns in shades of yellow and blue respectively, were in nylon silk, featuring the new bubble style skirt.

Their head bandeaux were in matching colors. Miss Lemay carried a colonial bouquet of pink baby roses and Miss Kibbe's bouquet was in yellow.

The demure little flower girl was Donna Zakaruk, niece of the bride. She was dressed in pink nylon and carried a tiny basket of pink roses.

Master Bobby Proctor of Edmonton, cousin of the bride, was ring-bearer.

The groom was attended by Mr. Louie Turner of Calgary and Mr. Ken Proctor, R.C.N., Victoria, brother of the bride.

Mrs. M. A. Lett played the wedding march.

At a reception held in the Memorial Hall for relatives and close friends the bride's mother received her guests gowned in an aqua chiffon dress and matching duster. Her accessories were in white and she wore a corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Black chose a navy silk dress with navy accessories. Her corsage was white roses.

Mr. J. Williams proposed a toast to the bride. Telegrams were read from friends and relatives in Victoria and Carstairs.

Out of town guests included; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Black, Frank Lowen, Bowden, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kibbe, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Kibbe, Mrs. Les Proctor, Mrs. Vivian Griswold, Edmonton; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kneeland, Calgary; Mrs. Don Jenkins, Drayton Valley; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Calvert and baby daughter, Edson.
